Thanking God for Josh & Amy Miller

Josh Miller grew up in NICE, since his parents, Jim and Kathy Miller, served with NICE. Amy grew up in Culdresac Community Church, ID, under the ministry of Pastor Larry Ott, an NICE missionary. When they felt drawn to the pastoral ministry, NICE was an obvious choice.

For the past four years, Josh has served as pastor at Three Forks Bible Church in Three Forks, MT. He commented, "I really enjoy the variety of ministry in a small town; and I'm also involved in the local volunteer fire department." Josh and Amy are encouraged to have a great group of men in leadership who are very involved in teaching and discipleship. The highlight for the Millers last year was a summer baptismal service at a local pond that included several young people from the church, including their own son, Ezekiel.

Amy home schools their four children, as well as working a couple hours a week at a local assisted living home as an RN. Josh's 99 year old grandmother, Jane English, lives at this same facility. Josh added, "She rides her scooter to church every week!" Jane's husband, Willard, passed away several years ago, but was at one time the bookkeeper for the NICE Office when it was located in University Place, WA.

How God has blessed NICE through this family ... from Willard and Jane English, to Jim and Kathy Miller, and now Josh and Amy!
