Thanking the Lord for our NICE Leadership ...

In an on-going goal to provide helpful resources to pastors and lay-leaders, Robert Zink, NICE's Assistant Director, has written a book entitled, "God's Church, God's Way; The Sufficiency of Scripture in Pastoral Leadership". The description of the book states, "Leading the people of God comes with both its unique blessings and its unique challenges. The variation in personalities of people, issues that arise, and means of ministry gifting can leave a pastor uncertain about the best course of action to take at any given time in order to lead the Lord's people well. The Lord does not leave His people unprepared, though. He has given pastors and elders wisdom in the written form of His Word so that they are adequately prepared for this serious task. There is no need to be either fearful or anxious about this role, then, but instead, they can be confident that the Lord has given them all things necessary for life and godliness (2 Peter 1:3). But when uncertain what to do, where does that pastor turn? What guidance do the Holy Scriptures offer and how do they guide the pastor's challenging task?"

Robert is currently working on the next book in the series, "God's Mission, God's Methods: The Sufficiency of Scripture in Missions". For more information, contact the NICE Office.
